It's Official! The Goring Named Best Hotel in London and Other News From Our Exceptional Clients

I am so proud to announce that The Goring was named "City Centre Hotel of the Year" by its peers in the "Hoteliers' Hotels Top 100 List". Judges were members of Pride of Britain Hotels, Relais & Châteaux, Master Innholders, and other industry leaders who understand the exceptional level of detail that goes into ensuring that every guest has a perfect stay.

You can see me below with John Andrews, The Goring's head concierge, and Harry, one of the footmen, spreading the good news at Virtuoso Travel Week in Las Vegas two weeks ago.

This award is particularly significant because judges could not vote for their own property or other hotels in their company's collection. Results were verified by some of the nation's pre-eminent hotel experts, including hotel journalist Fiona Duncan, Giovanna Grossi and fellow AA hotel inspectors, and senior editors at The Caterer.

Calcot in the Cotswolds was named the United Kingdom's "Family Hotel of The Year", a well-deserved recognition. Four other Rebecca Recommends clients also made the prestigious list, including two National Trust properties: Hartwell House in Buckinghamshire, 40 miles from London, and Bodysgallen Hall in North Wales. Barnsley House in the Cotswolds and G&V Royal Mile Hotel Edinburgh were also named.

Well done, everyone! If your clients haven't yet experienced any of these top-ranked properties, this is a good time to consider a stay.

I have other exciting news this month. Resplendent Ceylon is offering a sneak preview of its Wild Coast Tented Lodge Yala, due to open May 2017 in southeastern Sri Lanka. Yala has the highest concentration of leopards anywhere in the world! (They also have a special offer through November for clients who want to try Tea Trails or Cape Weligama.)

G&V is launching a brand new £1 million bar and lobby redevelopment called The Epicurean, and Castle Leslie Estate is offering the entire castle to a private group who would like to celebrate Christmas in splendid style. It is available three nights -- December 24 - 26th.

My philosophy is to represent independently owned hotels and destination management companies that are "the best of the best". They continue to exceed my expectations, which makes my job the easiest in the world.

Please feel free to contact me or any of the Rebecca Recommends team if we can assist you and your clients. We love to hear from you.

Very best wishes,

The Nare Inhabits The Land of Poldark

Starring Irish heartthrob Aidan Turner, Poldark Season 2 premieres on PBS with a two-hour episode on Sunday, September 25th, 2016 at 8 PM EST/7 PM CST. The show was filmed on location in Charlestown, Cornwall, just twenty minutes from The Nare, Cornwall's top luxury hotel. The main character, Ross Poldark, is a British Army officer who returns from the American Revolutionary War to his home in Cornwall only to find that his fiancée believed him dead and is about to marry his cousin.

Cornwall is England's rugged southwestern tip, encompassing wild moorland and hundreds of sandy beaches, culminating at the famous promontory Land's End. With tales of shipwrecks and smugglers, Cornwall is steeped in mystery, and Tintagel Castle on the North Coast is the legendary birthplace of King Arthur.

The Nare is the perfect place to stay in Cornwall, with its beautifully decorated rooms, stunning sea views, an indoor and an outdoor swimming pool, tennis courts, a spa, croquet lawn, billiards room and hot tub overlooking a perfect Cornish beach.

Accolades for The Goring -- And A New Fitness Room!

Along with being named "City Centre Hotel of The Year" by other hoteliers, The Goring has received so many accolades lately. Brian Clivaz, one of London's top restaurateurs (and CEO of the new private Devonshire Club in the financial district) said The Goring is his favorite hotel in London because "the staff are tremendous, the food is excellent, and the bedrooms have that quintessential English good taste."

The Sunday Post revealed why The Goring is the Royal Family's home away from home. The Independent raved about its summertime Gin Garden. The London Evening Standard praised The Dining Room with its Michelin star. It is just what you would expect from the only hotel in London with a Royal Warrant from Her Majesty The Queen.

The Goring recently added a 24-hour fitness room featuring a Technogym treadmill, elliptical cross-trainer and seated recline exercise bike, all equipped with smart screens for streaming content and listening to music. The fitness room also offers free weights for strength-training and yoga mats for flexibility, along with bottled mineral water and fresh fruit.

This new fitness room is the perfect complement to the many jogging tracks in neighboring St James's and Green Park. The Goring still offers complimentary access to a very exclusive gym just a five-minute taxi ride away, but guests now have the convenience of a place to work out right on premises.

The Goring's current promotions include Three Nights For Two and a Dine And Stay overnight package that includes a three-course dinner in The Dining Room.

Tailor-Make Your Break at Middlethorpe Hall Near York

Middlethorpe Hall, a National Trust hotel, is a 17th century William and Mary country house standing in 20 acres of manicured gardens and parkland just ten minutes from the medieval city of York. With its 13th-century defensive walls (the longest and best preserved in England), narrow streets, gothic cathedrals and antiquarian bookshops, York is an outstanding destination.

Visitors can explore York's Roman, Viking, and medieval heritage plus a wealth of attractions like the iconic York Minster – the largest medieval gothic cathedral in Northern Europe and a treasure house of over 800 years of stained glass.

Clients can experience Middlethorpe Hall and its surroundings with Tailor-Make Your Break, from £139 per person per night. It includes a £43 per person credit toward a three-course dinner, early morning tea, use of the spa, overnight parking and the guests' choice of one delicious extra, such as chilled Piper Heidsieck in the room or a 25-minute Decleor Aroma Back treatment for two. The accommodations portion of the package is commissionable.

A Garden View at Barnsley Spa & Skincare Centre

Part of The Calcot Collection in the Cotswolds, Barnsley House recently made improvements to its Barnsley Spa & Skincare Centre. It added a brand new steam room with a photo of a garden scene running around it, creating the sense of peeping out at the famous garden Rosemary Verey created at Barnsley House. Outside, a new outdoor fire and seating area gives guests a new way to enjoy the Cotswolds landscape.

There are new treatments at the spa, as well. Sister hotel Calcot introduced Elemis BIOTEC facials and body treatments last autumn, and now they have arrived at Barnsley Spa. Elemis is an award-winning British brand, and BIOTEC is its highly active skincare line that increases cell energy for optimum skin function.

Oddfellows' New Restaurant Gallops Onto the Dining Scene

Daniel Beech will be head chef of an ambitious new dining venue opening in December as part of the new luxury hotel Oddfellows On The Park. It will be located in the historic Bruntwood Hall in Cheadle, just outside Manchester.

The Galloping Major is named for Major James Platt, the second inhabitant of historic Bruntwood Hall. Platt created the equestrian stud farm on the estate which is now Bruntwood Park, and added the enormously expensive ballroom where the restaurant will be located.

Oddfellows On The Park is a 22-bedroom boutique hotel developed by Oddfellows Hotels, which is inspired by the history of the building and location in all its property restorations. Cheekily, the hotel also has a Bridle Suite and a bar called The Stud Room.

Beech joins from the Michelin-starred kitchens of Simon Radley at The Chester Grosvenor. Beech was personally trained by Radley from the age of 16, becoming Radley's youngest sous chef ever at the age of 22. Now 24, Beech hopes to have a significant impact on the culinary scene in Manchester, as did his noteworthy predecessors from The Chester Grosvenor's kitchens, including Paul Hollywood, Adam Reid (The French) and Aiden Byrne (Manchester House).

Hartwell House's Autumn Glory Break

Hartwell House and its 92 acres of grounds is perfect for the turning of the seasons. Guests can enjoy walks, visit nearby properties such as Waddesdon Manor or Stowe Landscape Gardens, shop for Christmas presents at Bicester Village or just relax and make the most of the Hartwell Spa.

Overnight rates for the Autumn Glory Break start from £330.00 (weekdays) and includes breakfast, an additional allowance of £100.00 towards food. A Friday or Saturday stay is from £360.00 per night. The package is available from October 1st through November 30th.

Hartwell House has a remarkable history, stretching back almost a thousand years. Restorations in recent years include fireplaces, a dining room in the manner of Sir John Soane and a Gothic setting for the original features of the Staircase Hall. The gardens and park have also been extensively restored and some garden buildings and ornaments have been moved to their original positions.

The new bike shed at Calcot.

Calcot Named The United Kingdom's Best Family Hotel

It's no wonder that Calcot was recently named the UK's "Family Hotel of the Year" by other hoteliers. Located along the sweeping lanes and gentle hills of the South Cotswolds, Calcot is geared towards families, from special rooms for kids and families to all the activities available.

It recently mapped out a bicycling route that links the three sister hotels of The Calcot Collection. Equipped with a Garmin GPS device and a packed lunch or energy snacks, guests make "pit stops" at Barnsley House and The Painswick before returning to Calcot, with an hour between each property. It even has a new bike shed created from an outbuilding that once stored grain.

Calcot runs the restaurant at Westonbirt, The National Arboretum, located just three miles down the road. It recently opened a 1,000 foot-long tree-top canopy walkway that rises on gentle inclines to a height of 43 feet for spectacular views across the arboretum's landscape.

More family activities include a mini-football pitch, assault course, woodland gymnasium, nature trail, pirate play ship, clay pigeon shooting, tennis, swimming, Segway rides and disc golf. There are dedicated times for younger guests in the heated indoor pool at Calcot Spa.

So parents can have private time and a lovely dinner, Calcot has an Ofsted-registered crèche for smaller children and a well-equipped hangout for children eight-years and older. It offers baby-listening and can arrange baby-sitters. When it's time to rest, the family rooms are large, and many have children's separate bedrooms.

Great Garden Package From Historic Great Fosters

Built in 1550 as a royal hunting lodge, Great Fosters is famous for its stunning formal gardens, complete with topiary, Saxon moat and a private lake. Now it's celebrating The Year of The English Garden with a special garden package. Guests can enjoy a luxury one-night stay with full English breakfast, and a picnic-for-two to enjoy at The Savill Garden -- tickets included.

The Savill Garden is considered one of England's greatest ornamental gardens, created by Sir Eric Savill in the 1930s. It is part of Windsor Great Park, the 4,800-acre Royal Park next to Windsor Castle -- and just ten minutes away from Great Fosters. Rates for this package (which includes Pimm's on The Terrace) start at £209 per couple in a standard double room or £259 in an executive room or junior suite.

Great Fosters is a Grade One listed building set amongst 50 acres of gardens and parkland in Egham, Surrey. Immaculately preserved, this stately historic monument boasts an enviable location close to Heathrow, the M25 and M4 and near Windsor, Wentworth, Staines and Virginia Water.

SCOTLAND

Aldourie Castle's Luxury House Party

Aldourie Castle in Scotland has put together an experience to suit any family or group stay -- the Luxury House Party. It is perfect for a multi-generational holiday or a group of friends who might like a getaway in a private castle next to majestic Loch Ness.

Aldourie is a unique experience, an extremely welcoming 500-acre property where guests feel at home within minutes. They can relax in four-poster bedrooms, dine on the finest Scottish cuisine and enjoy activities that cater to both adults and children. Aldourie Castle's hospitality team can organize anything inside the castle or both on and off the estate.

Aldourie Castle is also excellent for Luxury Corporate Retreats and private celebrations, including exclusive group accommodation during Christmas and New Year, when the house is seasonally decorated.

Cucina at G&V has a stylish new look.

G&V Updates Cucina; Plans New Bar & Lobby

The only five-star hotel on the historic Royal Mile in the Scottish capital of Edinburgh, G&V has lots of news. Its award-winning Italian restaurant, Cucina, just had a serious update from Glaswegian textiles and wallpaper designer Timorous Beasties. It has a new buffet breakfast with local hand-pressed organic cheeses, artisanal breads from Edinburgh bakery Arbroath Smokies and honey provided by G&V's own bees -- all 180,000 of them. G&V is the first hotel in Scotland to have its own beehives!

In October, a brand new £1 million bar and lobby redevelopment will debut. The Epicurean will feature all day-dining with Mediterranean snacks and Scotland's first and only EvoGro Plant Growing System so the bar can add fresh herbs and spices to cocktails and food dishes. The cocktail menu takes guests on a Scotsman's journey of Botanical Europe, and the extensive mocktail list is made with hand-pressed juices.

A new G&V shop in the lobby will offer home-grown herbal teas, coffees, cakes, pastries and a small selection of sandwiches and snacks. Edinburgh's premier florist, Snapdragon, will sell fresh flowers and offer floral arranging master classes.

Drive The North Coast 500 and Stay at The Torridon

One of the great drives of Western Europe, the new North Coast 500 (NC500) route circumnavigates the northern Highlands of Scotland with its magnificent mountain scenery, stunning sea lochs and beautiful empty beaches. The Torridon is right on the route and offers a great base for exploring the best of the Scottish Highlands.

Officially the drive begins in Inverness, capital of the Highlands, then heads west towards Kyle of Lochalsh, up the scenic west coast to Durness and across the most northerly stretch to John O'Groats before returning back to Inverness, covering a total of 500 miles.

A beguiling combination of luxury hotel, traditional inn, top class restaurant and activity centre, The Torridon welcomes weary travelers with afternoon tea beside a roaring fire and sends them back out on their way a few days later, refreshed and properly pampered.

Nearby, they can explore the magnificent Dunrobin Castle, the National Trust-owned Inverse Gardens and the great untamed playground of Wester Ross. The Torridon activities team can arrange a climb of the nearest munro (a mountain over 3,000 feet), kayaking across a sea loch, trekking in search of local wildlife or mountain biking along rugged Highland trails.
